Making Waves: Women in Communications Today

A Panel Discussion Commemorating WMHC's 50 Years of Women-Run Radio

Moderator: Sarah Fraser '04, WMHC News and Talk Director

Beth Karas '79

Beth is an attorney and reporter for the cable network, Court TV, based in New York City. She has been an on-air reporter for Court TV since 1994 where she reports on trials the network is covering. She also appears weekly as a legal analyst on BBC's Radio Five Live and regularly reports on Court TV's trials and other legal topics on television and radio stations across the country. Beth's other television appearances include The Today Show, Good Morning America, Dateline NBC, The Montel Williams Show, True Hollywood Story, BET, Entertainment Tonight, Canada AM and BBC. Prior to joining Court TV, Beth was an Assistant District Attorney for eight years in New York City where she tried cases ranging from rape and robbery to racketeering and political corruption. Beth is a graduate of MHC '79 and Fordham Law School '86.

Jill Gould '91

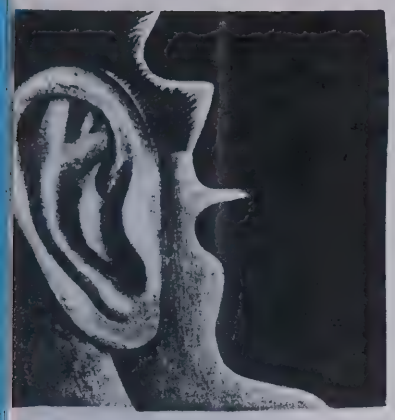
Currently, Jill works as a Supervising Producer of "The People's Court" under Ralph Edwards/Stu Billet Productions in New York City. Since graduating from Mount Holyoke in 1991, she has worked on many projects, including working in Technical Support at WTOP News Radio in Washington D.C., at "America's Most Wanted" as an Associate Producer, as a Set Production Assistant on the Miramax Films picture "Wishful Thinking," and as a Producer of "Rolonda" for King World Productions. At Mount Holyoke she was an English and Politics double major and spent her fall semester of her Junior year in American University's Journalism Program. While in college she held internships at CBS News' "Face the Nation" in Washington D.C. and at Lisa Ekus Public Relations in Massachusetts.

Mia Howard '99

Mia is a graduate of Mount Holyoke College's Class of 1999, where she was one of the first students to design a major in Mass Communications. Mia spent her spring semester of her senior year in a full-time internship at the Springfield NBC affiliate WWLP-TV 22News and was hired a month before graduation. A year later, she became one of the youngest on-air talents in Western Massachusetts as a weather forecaster with the 22News Storm Team. She has also worked in public relations for Save the Children, and as a marketing assistant (and firewalker) for a national motivational speaker located in the Boston area. Currently, Mia is a marketing coordinator for a financial services firm in the metro-Boston region.

Lydia Szarlan '92

At present, Lydia works the Sunday morning shift as On-Air Talent at WMAS-FM Springfield, and does the morning drive news and production work. She is also employed as an Affiliate Relations/Promotions Director at Creative Voice and Media in Warwick, Massachusetts and assists in production, programming, and developing web-based promotions for shows. Since graduating from Mount Holyoke in 1992 as an English major and Education minor she has worked at various radio stations in the Pioneer Valley, such as WRNX-FM in Holyoke, WNNZ-AM640 in Springfield, and WEIB-FM in Northampton. She is currently working toward a Master of Arts in Media Arts at Emerson College in Boston, Massachusetts.



Tired of being picked on, pushed around, talked about, double-crossed? Listen to WMHC 91.5 FM. Where loyalty means something.

Dolly Spartans are a garage-rock, pop band from NYC boasting sophisticated instrumental work and immediate, unforgettable melodies. Their new EP, Time Sides With No One, showcases a maturation in the band's songwriting and arrangements while still maintaining the pop sensibility, energy, and addictiveness that we loved in the first EP.

"One of the best releases of 2017"
- Matt Pinfield

About GoofBall:

Goofball began as the solo project of Clancy Gill in 2012. Born and raised in Wyoming, Gill writes and records all of his music at home with a digital 8 track. Pretty Fishy is a collection of GoofBall's best tracks off his huge Soundcloud catalog. The debut LP shows off Clancy's impressive diversity from the electronic "Mermaid Bluegrass" to garage rock in "15th Avenue" and acoustic love song "Miss Queen Bee".

FCC Warning: Tracks 3, 5 and 20
Record label: Self-released
Focus tracks: "Lunch Money", "15th Ave", "Funny", "2 Timing Lady", "Gravity", "Miss Queen Bee", "Fishes & Whales"
